My healthcare rights: How can I use the Charter?

The Australian Charter of Healthcare Rights describes what you can expect when receiving health care in Australia.

I know that I have rights

I ask questions

I tell my healthcare provider what is important to me

I get information that I can understand

We make decisions together

I can include my carer, family and friends

The Australian Charter of Healthcare Rights describes what you can expect when receiving health care in Australia.

For more information on the charter and how it can help you ask a member of staff or visit safetyandquality.gov.au/your-rights